

Red Birds (twelve to twenty-four months)

This room is ready for the mobile child. There are many opportunities for children to explore their new movements. This room has a ratio of one staff to four children. Meals are eaten in small chairs with trays, and as children are ready, they eat at the table with their peers. Children are on a schedule for eating and sleeping, but adjustments are made as needed to accommodate the individual child. Children move to the Green Frogs classroom after their second birthday, usually in the month of May. At this point, classes start moving to the next classroom together using the school formula for Kindergarten (age five by September 15).
